Two Runaway Boys.

J. Moorehouse and D. Roseberry, of New Cumberland, were here yesterday looking for their two ten-year-old sons, who had run away from home the day before. A man who knows the boys was talking to them at the Pittsburgh, Wheeling & Kentucky station yesterday morning, but they have not been seen since. The police were asked to help locate them.

Bishop Kain at Fairmont.

Bishop Kain, of Wheeling, officiated in the Catholic church in this place last Sunday, and preached a very interesting sermon, says this week's Fairmont Index. The fact that this distinguished divine would be with us was not generally known or the church would have been crowded. Those fortunate enough to be present were charmed with the discourse.

Three Cases Yesterday.

In the police court yesterday Luther Hess was given an additional thirty days in the workhouse for disorderly conduct. He has still eighty-four days to serve on his old term. To prevent his walking out again he will wear a ball and chain for awhile. Disher Porter was fined for cruelty to animals, but the fine was suspended on his promise not to do so again. John Dunning was given fifteen days on the hill for loitering in a house of ill fame.

W. & L. E. Officials Here.

F. R. Lawrence, of New York, president of the W. & L. E. railroad, A. G. Blair, general manager, and C. A. Wilson, chief engineer, arrived in the city last evening on a special train and private car, and are at the McClure house. They are here on a tour of inspection, and their coming revives the recent talk of improvements at this end of the line. That the company has something in view is very apparent, but just what it is nobody who knows will say.

MAIER WILL NOT HANG,

At Least not on the Fifth of August, as he was sentenced to.

MONEY ENOUGH HAS BEEN RAISED

To take his case to the Supreme Court of Appeals, and an Appeal will be made to that Tribunal—The Record now being Prepared to be Filed with the Application for a Supersedeas.

As has been mentioned in the INTELLIGENCER Mrs. Gross, of Cincinnati, a friend of Wilhelm Maier's, came here some time ago and interested herself in the case of the condemned wife murderer, who had been sentenced to be hung on August 5. As was explained in this paper, Maier had no money, and to apply to the Supreme Court of Appeals for a new trial and push the case through, filing the record, etc., as the law requires, would cost about $160 or $170. It looked as if his lawyers' claim that he was entitled to a new trial could never be tested on account of their client's poverty.

There are many people who conscientiously believe that Maier is insane and ought not to be hanged for his crime, while there are others who believe he should die, but do not consider it right nor humane to hang him until every source is exhausted on his behalf, just as it would be if he had plenty of money. These two feelings combined to crown with success Mrs. Gross's efforts to raise a fund to take his case to the court of last resort.

She and other friends whom she succeeded in interesting in the case have raised almost enough money to pay all the probable expenses, and it is understood that members of the Beethoven singing society, to which Maier belonged, have guaranteed to make up any deficit which may remain after all the money has been collected that can be.

A transcript of the evidence is now being made by Stenographer Matthews, to be filed with the clerk's record of the trial, and as soon as this record is completed an application will be made to one of the judges of the supreme court of appeals for a writ of error and supersedeas. The writ will in all human probability be issued and the execution stayed, as the matter cannot be passed upon by the court till some time after the day fixed for hanging Maier, as the court does not have another session until September.

Mr. Atkinson, of Maier's counsel, expressed himself last night as very confident that a stay of execution would be secured. It is freely predicted by others that if Maier secures another trial, the verdict will not be hanging, although just what this prediction is based on does not appear.

Arrangements have been made, if Maier does die on the scaffold, to have his brain examined by an expert in mental disorders and diseases of the brain. This is to be done merely in the interest of science, and for the bearing it may have on the future punishment of crime.

A BOY BADLY HURT.

A Little Fellow Struck in the Face and his Nose Broken.

Yesterday afternoon Fred Hornick, aged nineteen, and a small boy named George Humphrey, aged eight, had a difficulty of some kind, and Hornick struck the little fellow an awful blow in the face. The boy's nose was broken and mangled in a way that will disfigure him for life. It was mashed clear over upon his cheek.

Officer Ritz arrested Hornick and he spent the night the lockup. Dr. Ashbrook was summoned to attend the boy's injury. He said last evening that George was seriously hurt, and would not be able to appear in the police court this morning. Hornick's offense is sufficient to make a state case, anyhow, and he will probably be taken before a justice in the morning and sent to jail until his victim can appear to testify against him.

He did not know his Name.

Last night about nine o'clock Officer Watson found a stranger, a young man, well dressed and very drunk, near the Hotel Windsor. He said he was staying at the Windsor, but refused to go into the house. Watson arrested him and he was hauled to the lockup in the wagon. He could not or would not give his name, but from papers in his pockets is believed to be N. Gray, a Philadelphia drummer.
